“Jeff Kruh thrills audiences with his solid musicianship and imaginative jazz arrangements of noted Christian hymns and classics. His command of the keyboard is without question: astounding! Christian Music Presenters had the honor of featuring him in concert at Carnegie Hall and his performance was acclaimed with a standing ovation. Moreover, Jeff’s humble Christian character and witness is evident throughout his ministry performance.”

“Jeff is an accomplished jazz musician with a passion for music ministry, and his Savior. Recently Jeff ministered to our church for a night of fellowship. From a musical standpoint, I will tell you that you will not find a more inspired and talented performance than that of Jeff’s. The musicianship, style and presentation of the music will rival anything that you will hear on the jazz scene today. In my opinion it is better because intertwined with the music is the honest and open testimony of Jeff’s life. It is with great excitement that I recommend that you have Jeff minister to your assembly. His music and his ability to speak to the lives of people about Jesus will bless many. Whether during a Sunday morning service or another service or meeting, Jeff will be a blessing whenever he can minister. He has my strongest recommendation.”
